Playing Barnyard.
From the New Haven Journal.
One day Billy and Sammy were playing in a mud hole, and Billy said: "Now, Sammy, let's play we was a barnyard. You be the pig, and I'll be a bull and beller like everything."
So they got down on their hands and knees, and Sammy went into the dirt and wallowed, while Billy bellowed like distant thunder. By and by Sammy came up muddy, and never saw such a muddy little fellow—and he said:
"Now, you'll be the pig, and let me beller."
But Billy said: "I ain't a very good pig except for dinner, and it'll be time nuff for you to beller when your mother sees yer close."

Deadwood recently opened a free fight with prayer by a prominent clergyman. He brought that the night might be lively and enjoyable, and it did prove to be one of the most pleasurable occurrences of the season, three men having ears chewed off, four losing front teeth, six accumulating broken noses and one having an eye gouged out.

The latest invention reported by a Japanese journal is that of Otsuka, Minkichi, who, after extensive experiments, is said to have succeeded in making rifles of silk. They are described "as rigid as iron guns, which they are easy of carriage and have a long range." The man who wrote the above is an "induction balance" or a "bulletin."

A Sheriff who was called upon to levy upon a variety actor's effects in Philadelphia the other day, found that they consisted of a pair of side whisks valued at 50 cents and a whistle worth ten cents. The actor claimed the benefit of the $500 exemption law, and saved his "effects."—Syrac. Her.

TAKE THE STITCH IN TIME.

The time will come when the people of this State will be forced to consider its financial condition and the policies which have led to it. That such consideration might be had has been the sole motive for agitating this matter through the GAZETTE. We did not desire to leave the matter for unfair uses by either political party, and in anticipating their next year's thunder we have sadly interfered with the Democrats of Eureka and the State Capital. There are certain newspapers, for instance the Enterprise, that seem to be unable to see any duty which they owe the people in this matter. There are others, like the Austin News, who are either mentally incapable or too lazy to attempt an intelligent discussion of a matter which underlies the future of our State government.

The time will come when the people must take the nine stitches which one in time would have saved. If the newspapers neglect to inform the people on such grave matters, the people may reasonably refuse to support them.

UNITED WE STAND.

In another column we throw out a few thoughts on Reno's future which we do wish people here would study. If we could all be united and pull together we could advance Reno enormously. But in too many cases those who try to help us meet with rebuffs and discouragements. The building of the Carson & Colorado road south and the Nevada & Oregon road opens to this place a grand future. All we have to do is to take advantage of it. The high range of mountains on the west and the great plains on the east keep out opposition. The high freight rates will act as a protective tariff, and the man who can manufacture anything here that the people want will have the inside track. We want to see factories rather than wholesale stores, shops rather than Eastern agencies. The large and well-to-do communities north will stop here to buy their agricultural implements, groceries and clothing if we make them cheaper than other people. The miners south will come here if they can make it pay. The GAZETTE would be glad to see unity of action, and a hearty welcome to every helping hand from outside.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Reno Grand Jury refused to find indictments against any of the participants in the shooting affray at the railroad meeting. This is at least understandable. It is better to notify at the outset that murder will go unpunished, as has been done in this case in Nevada, rather than to go through the form of a trial to reach a prearranged acquittal, as is the practice in California.—S. F. Post.

The San Francisco Post seeks credit for a large-hearted enterprise, through the publication of a series of very inferior cuts and an outlay of $1.50 per week. The Post confidently expects recruits to its squad of subscribers so that this expense may be met in the future. Kilmarnock jail was the Post's last offense.

It is rumored that George W. Cassidy, M. C., will follow the example of his illustrious predecessors, Sharon and Fair, and make his home in another State. It is said that the lumber business in St. Louis has captured this effective and distinguished member of the dime-o-cracy.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEVITIES.

—The number of suspects now imprisoned in Ireland is 244.

—Sixteen thousand applications to the Irish Land Commission have been made to fix fair rent.

—The Mexican Senate has approved the railroad concession made to Huntington and Gould.

—Advices from Mecca report fifteen cases of cholera per day. There are 100,000 pilgrims in the city.

—English capitalists are large purchasers of Eric stock, and it is said they want Gould to control the road.

—The schooner Delia Haskins capsized in a squall off Nantucket, and the mate and four men died from exhaustion.

—Warren A. Russell's training stables burned at Danville, Ky., with a number of valuable horses, including Austral and Erricson.

—Hanson and Plasted, in charge of Captain Mullet, will leave Toronto, Friday, for San Francisco to give five exhibitions of equestrian.

—Antonio Cresello, the only survivor of the ill-fated bark Rosina, which left Catania, Italy, for New York, last September, has reached New York.

TO-DAY'S NEWS

Press Dispatches to RENO EVENING GAZETTE.

EASTERN.

Blaine's Programme.

CHICAGO, November 7. A Times Washington special says Blaine will retire from the position of Secretary of State at the close of this month. He will remain this winter in Washington, and devote himself to preparation for the next National convention. His elegant house, in the neighborhood of Castle Stewart, is nearly completed. The site is a beautiful one, in the extreme north-west of Washington's fashionable portion of the city. Blaine's residence will be one of the centers of fashion and intellect of the capital. Mr. Blaine is a princely entertainer and one of the most popular of all public men who have moved in Washington society. Blaine has large means. By those well informed his wealth is estimated at over $1,000,000. In financial speculations he has always proven as bold as in politics. One of his greatest sources of revenue has been from lucky ventures in the coal mines of Pennsylvania. He is the sole residuary legatee of the Garfield administration. While he will make his headquarters at Washington he will, probably, at various times, visit different sections of the country.

The Insecurity of Life in Russia.

New York, November 8.

A Herald's Berlin correspondent says: A diplomat who has just arrived from St. Petersburg gives me a very gloomy description of the situation in Russia. Affairs are growing more and more critical daily. Riots are feared in consequence of the increasing dearth of provisions. The Nihilists are distributing circulars charging the Czar with being the cause of all the trouble and declaring that he is sending all the gold of Russia to Denmark. The truth is that a small part of the 60,000,000 roubles found in the Imperial cellars after the assassination of Alexander II was forwarded to Denmark at the time of the recent royal marriage. High Russian officials are advising the landlords to leave the country for the city if they do not wish to be assassinated.

Makes Vanderbilt Sick.

Chicago, November 6.

The officials of the Lake Shore road are denately ignorant of the programme for the lightning express, and the public are uninformed from official sources. Elsewhere it is said that Vanderbilt met with so many difficulties in competing with the Panama road's fast time that he has given up the fast train from Chicago to New York and will not attempt to beat the Panama time from New York to the west. The difficulty arises from the longer route of the Vanderbilt combinations, and from jealousy of the Michigan Central and Canada roads which must be left out in the cold.

New York News.

New York, November 7.

President Arthur remained in his house all day and was called upon by Grant, Horace Porter and others. In the evening the President had a conference with Secretary Blaine in the Fifth Avenue Hotel.

The French delegates to the Yorktown celebration visited various parts of the city to-day.

The German delegates were guests of the Consul-General from Germany at his residence on Staten Island.

The Land Question at Sea.

Boston, November 8.

The captain of the steamer Victoria, from Liverpool, to-day handed over to the police Michael Regan, of Roscommon, Ireland, who probably fatally shot David Turner, an Englishman. They were both steering passengers. On Regan's person was found a murderous looking knife and a large number of cartridges.

Eads Growing Foe.

Madison, Ind., November 7.

Argus Dean, a delegate to the late Mississippi river convention at St. Louis, publishes an open letter saying that the convention was merely in the interest of Captain Eads to create sentiment and compel Congress to appropriate money without consideration for a jetty system in the northern portion of the river.

A Bet of Fenianism.

Washington, November 8.

General Robert B. Lynch, one of the Fenians captured at the battle of Ridgeway, and who served a long term of imprisonment in the Castle at Kingston, Ont., has been given a position as messenger in the War Department.

Somebody to Blaine.

Danville, Ky., Nov. 7.

Indictments for murder have been found against engineer Tate and conductor McNama for killing five men by recklessly causing a railroad collision. The men are missing.

Fires.

New York, November 8.

An incendiary fire destroyed the Pennsylvania Central round-house at Princeton on Saturday. Loss $15,000.

New York, November 6.

The fire in Hoboken this afternoon totally destroyed the Eagle Dock. Two full cargoes of merchandise and a large quantity of cotton and steel rails owned by New York merchants. The dock was fully insured and was constructed eight years ago at a cost of $250,000.

New York, November 7.

The Opera House in this city burned last night. The building was an entire loss. Several merchants occupying the ground floor are heavy losers. The Big Four minstrel troupe which played in the house last night lost nineteen trunks and their musical instruments. Total loss, $50,000; insured for $9,000.

A Gigantic Speculation in Corn.

Chicago, November 7.

The Inter-Ocean has this interesting history: During October, J. B. Hobbs, of this city, bought and sold sixty million bushels of corn. This was the largest grain deal ever made or conceived by one man or firm. He signed checks for ten million dollars while making this deal.

The chief point in this connection is that during October he had some three million bushels of corn ready for shipment east. He told the vessel men he would give them all they could do for the rest of the fall, offering them three cents a bushel to carry the corn to Buffalo. The vessel men held off for 8 1/2 cents, and after consulting together peremptorily declined his offer. The effect of this decision was terrible. The railways learned of it, and offered to carry the corn to New York for 7 cents, which sum included three cents terminal charges. It was an unprecedented offer which no man could refuse, and Mr. Hobbs' principals telegraphed in haste for him to accept. The offer was taken and in a twinkling the vessel men found that the most gigantic game on which the rise of an old salt were ever laid, they had kicked from their own grasp. They have since come down to three cents, one cent, and a half cents and two cents, and even offered vessels free so as to have ballast, and are now stripping for the winter, having refused work enough to occupy every vessel on the lake until winter.

Railroad Movements.

New York, November 7.

It is stated that the Huntington syndicate has bought sixty per cent of the stock and bonds of the Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Chicago road, in the interest of the Chesapeake and Ohio system. A road is being built to give the Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Chicago a direct connection with the Rock Island road, and establish a great trunk line from the north-west to Newport.

They Wanted to Suspend Madden.

Tiffin, Ohio, November 7.

The jail officers and police repelled a mob of several hundred who would have lynched Madden for killing Phoebe Bernard.

The militia was ordered out and warrants were issued for the arrest of the ringleaders of the mob.

WESTERN.

The Omaha Tragedy.

Omaha, Neb., November 6.

The assassination of Col. Watson B. Smith still remains wrapped in mystery, no clue yet having been discovered that can be considered of any great value. The rewards now offered amount to $5,000, and $5,000 more are to be raised by citizens to-morrow, to be used in paying incidental expenses, if necessary, in hunting out the murderer. It is generally thought the murderer is a citizen here, and perhaps engaged in the liquor traffic, against which the deceased has engaged in a successful war. No one has any idea of a conspiracy, but that the act was committed by one man.

Wells Fargo & Co. Robbed Again.

Sonoma, Cal., November 7.

The down stage from here was stopped at four o'clock this morning between Tuttle-town and the river by four masked men. W. F. & Co.'s treasure box was broken open and robbed of $3,300, shipped from the Sonoma office. John Meender, one of our merchants, had on his person $350. Thinking that the passengers would be robbed he dropped it in the stage and it was found by the robbers. No other passengers were robbed. The robbers were masked with old sacks. No clue has been obtained yet.

The Rodgers Heard From.

San Francisco, November 7.

The steam whaler Belvidere arrived this morning, bringing advice from the Arctic relief steamer Rodgers. She confirms the report brought down by the steamer Golden Plover on Saturday, that the Rodgers had circumnavigated Wrangle Land. This sets at rest doubts entertained here, as the information comes direct from the Rodgers by verbal statements of captain of the Belvidere and by letters which he brought down from officers and correspondents on board the Rodgers.

Another Fight in Arizona.

San Francisco, November 7.

A Tucson dispatch says: Information is just received of a fight between the hostile Apaches under chiefs Yava and Dravo and the U. S. Cavalry, in Apache county, in which four bucks were killed and three women and some children captured. The Apaches were scattered by the engagement and are scattering towards the San Carlos Agency.

California's Sunday Law.

San Francisco, November 8.

Dispatches received here from Marysville, Roseville, Spanishtown, Napa and other points, say that the Sunday Law was generally observed by the closing of saloons and other places of business.

A Sheriff Drowned.

Redwood City, Cal., November 6.

George W. Green, Sheriff of this county, was drowned to-day at the mouth of Redwood City creek by the capsizing of a boat.

The Gag in Italy.

Rome, November 7.

The anniversary of the battle of Montevideo was celebrated at Milan and Montevideo. Two speakers at Milan and one at Montevideo were silenced by the police.

HUMAN HUMBUGS.

SOME SIGNIFICANT STATEMENTS SILENCING SKEPTICS.

Chicago's Curiously Complicated Climate Changes, Bringing Baneful Hardens to Banished Beings Here Below—Interesting Investigations.

Chicago, November 2.

The growing number of human humbugs—so-called—seeking publicity through the public press, and in consequence, popular adoption, induced the Tribune of this city to institute reportorial investigation, the substance of which is given below. As will readily be seen, the result was a triumphant vindication of the most exalted claims of the article respecting which the researches were made. The publishers say:

"One thing should be thoroughly understood by readers. It is the fact that a newspaper vouches simply for the nature of the matter furnished by its patrons. This, of course, does not preclude the publication of extravagant and even unwarranted statements. A proper apprehension of this fact might often prevent such experiences as have led to a wholesale and unjust denunciation of the advertising public. That in this age of progress and invention much which seems doubtful upon the face is in reality founded upon fact, would appear from the following. The wonderful results said to have been secured by an article now very generally before the public led a Tribune reporter to make numerous interviews, the result of which is herewith given. Having heard the name of Mr. Wesley Sisson, a well known lawyer of this city, mentioned in connection with a wonderful cure, the reporter visited him at his office, No. 169, Washington street. The statement which the reporter heard here was so wonderful that, had it come from a less reliable source, it would have been deemed hardly trustworthy. The gentleman stated that during the summer months he paid a visit to Mobile, Alabama, and that, while there he must have become affected by the malarial vapors which abound on the Gulf coast, as after his arrival home, three months ago, he took sick with rheumatism. The malady attacked him in the back and thighs, where it was sciatic in its nature, and in the arms and shoulders, where it was of the inflammatory type. After weeks of agony, which three successively called doctors failed to cure, he was recommended to try St. Jacobs Oil, and after much opposition on his part, as he did not believe that any externally applied remedy could possibly benefit so stubborn and serious a case, he consented and sent for a couple of bottles. The sciatic pains arising in the base of the backbone, extending through the muscles of both legs into the knee, were caused by the slightest attempt of his to move in bed, while his arms and shoulders were so affected that he could not even feed himself. The first application of the new remedy ended the trouble in the shoulder and brought slight relief to the sciatic pains. After two bottles had been used a further marked improvement was felt, and in another week he was cured and able to go to his business—thirty pounds lighter in weight than when first attacked with sickness; but thanks to four bottles of St. Jacobs Oil, I am a well man. Mr. Sisson was enthusiastic in his laudation of the remedy, which he hoped would be sought by all who were suffering as he had been, and said he could not find words in which to express his gratitude for his cure. At the same time he produced a letter which he had written to Messrs. A. Vogler & Co., the proprietors of the remedy, describing the wonderful nature of his cure, the closing paragraph of which ran as follows: 'If any person afflicted as I was desires a stronger testimonial, I shall tell them if they call upon me to give St. Jacobs Oil a fair trial; and I now feel as though I could assure them the same grateful and speedy relief that I have experienced.' It should be added that Mr. Sisson had vainly tried a variety of complicated and painful treatments in the form of baths, cuppings, etc., which had brought no relief, and that he was on the point of going to Hot Springs when he was induced to try St. Jacobs Oil with the happy results already described. At the residence of Otto Winther, No. 246 Wabash avenue, cashier for four years for Mr. Ira Brown, the real estate man, the news gatherer found further evidence of the curative power of the wonderful remedy. Mr. Winther said that a fortnight ago he had a very sharp attack of rheumatism in the legs, which disabled him from attending to his duties. Medical attendance had failed to do him any good, and when a friend recommended St. Jacobs Oil to him, he at once tried a bottle, and with absolutely immediate benefit, which has been lasting, no symptoms of the trouble having recurred since. He thought that the case of Miss Morgan, a girl living with a family in the same building, was, at least, equally remarkable. Miss Morgan had for several days been suffering from neuralgia in its most terrible form. The agony, which rendered her almost crazy, gave way to none of a number of remedies used, until, by Mr. Winther's advice the wonderful Oil was applied, when a perfect and lasting banishment of the pain was accomplished in less than five minutes. Mr. Winther is an intelligent and educated gentleman, who speaks five different languages fluently, and whose endorsement of the remedy is that of a man who knows thoroughly what he is talking about. Professor Edward Holst, the pianist and composer, who resides in the same building, stated that some weeks ago he was attacked with catarrh of the throat of the most malignant form. He was entirely disabled from visiting his pupils, and the sufferings of the disorder were intense. He summoned medical attendance, and tried a number of remedies in vain, when a few applications of the Oil effected a rapid and thorough removal of the disease. Mme. Marie Salvetti, the famous prima donna who has charmed the audiences of the Whittier Charity Concert, a few weeks ago, and who, it is understood, intends accompanying that famous violinist on his tour to California, gave the following testimony on behalf of the remedy: 'Having repeatedly had occasion to seek relief in cases of neuralgia and rheumatic pains, as well as when suffering from troublesome sore throat, I find, after vainly trying many remedies that nothing can compare with St. Jacobs Oil as a prompt and reliable cure for the ailments named. A number of my professional friends, who have experienced like satisfactory results, keep it as a traveling companion, and are also enthusiastic in its praise.'

Taking in view the number of testimonials in support of the efficacy of St. Jacobs Oil and the higher character of those supplying them, the inference is irresistible that the remedy is the most remarkable for such diseases as have been mentioned in the above interviews, that has yet been discovered, and considering their value as a guide and suggestion to suffering humanity, there is nothing unmercenary or unprofessional in advertising the article. The above ought to recommend it to the confidence of all our citizens."

I. BARNETT

BEGS to INFORM HIS CUSTOMERS and the public that in addition to his extensive stock of Dry Goods and Fancy Goods, he has received within the past few days, direct from New York, a very fine and large assortment of Plain and Watered Silks and Finishes in all available shades.

Cloaks and Dolmans:

I call special attention to this line, and can convince everybody that I keep the Finest and Largest assortment in that line in the State.

Price List:

AS TO PRICES IN CLOAKS AND DOLMANS, IT IS SIMPLY A humbug. I may put in the paper to sell Cloaks or Dolmans or Ulsters for $7.50, worth $13, but no lady can tell from that whether the garment is cheap or not; she does not know whether it is all wool or all cotton, or what the color is, or it may be some shape that has gone out of style. The only correct way is to examine the Styles, Quality of Material, Compare Prices, and buy where you can get the best value for your money.

That place is only at
